Features of the Week:

Foreign Language Classes

The International Center is offering foreign language courses for a small fee of $50 per semester. In addition to learning a new language, this is a great opportunity to sharpen your linguistic skills and learn about other cultures. The classes meet weekly starting the week of Feb 6th. Languages offered this semester are French, Spanish, Turkish, Chinese, German, Korean, Persian, Romanian and Russian. For information on the class schedule and to register for a course, see the International Center's Website:

http://www.intlctr.org/activities-events/foreign-language-classes

Where: The International center (523 N. Russell St., West Lafayette, IN 47906)
When: All semester beginning this week!
Why: Because languages and cultures are fun! Not to mention it is a great resume builder!

Need Travel Money? Check out PGSG Travel Grants!

The Purdue Graduate Student Government provides money for graduate students to travel to research conferences each semester. This is a great way to get to that conference you've been dying to go to! Conferences are a wonderful experience full of listening to emerging research and networking with scientists worldwide. The Purdue Graduate Student Government wants to help you get there! Applications are being accepted until March 2nd and the granting period includes funding travel between 03/01/12 – 08/31/12. For more information check out:
