

In order to avoid getting wet, is it better to walk or run in the rain? Assume that the rain falls at an angle θ from the vertical. Clearly state your assumptions and provide justification for your conclusion.