

A Boeing Company

You come to Aurora to build things that people have never seen before – the next generation of aircraft configurations, advanced propulsion, and autonomous technologies. We are a team of passionate people moved by the idea that what we build can change how we use the sky.

If this is you, come learn more.

Thursday, September 5th

6pm in PHYS 333

