

Abbett Farms is looking to hire additional help on the farm. This is a large operation in Northwest Indiana, covering almost 8,000 acres across 5 counties growing seed corn, soybeans, corn, as well as tomatoes for Red Gold. They also have a large number of center pivot irrigation systems.

They are looking for qualified individuals to help with a wide range of responsibilities: late model John Deere equipment, grain storage facility, and liquid storage. They provide a lot of autonomy for their employees and value their input on a daily basis.

Responsibilities include operating planters, sprayers, combines, managing irrigation systems, grain hauling, tillage work, excavators, light maintenance and much more. They are willing to train the right person if they show the willingness and hard work being sought.

Abbett Farms offer competitive pay as well as benefits including health insurance and retirement, among other items. For more information, contact Alex Leuck (alex@abbettfarms.com).
