Summer Help Needed

The Ag Alumni Seed popcorn research department in Romney, Indiana is seeking summer help.

Students will have the opportunity to work with the Ag Alumni Seed research group and assist with popcorn research. This position would consist of taking stand counts, performing hand pollinations, supervising field crews and assisting with field notes. This work will be field based (outdoors) and field conditions may be less than ideal at times (dusty, muddy etc). Applicants need no specific experience, as training will be provided, but attention to detail, an interest in agricultural seed research, and a strong work ethic is required.

Interested students can email a resume to Kyle Bird at kyle@agalumniseed.com or apply in person to:
