

2014 Ag Entrepreneurship Event

November 13, 2014 • 6 p.m. • Deans Auditorium, Pfendler Hall

Learn to be successful from real-life entrepreneurs.

Join us for the 3rd Annual College of Agriculture Entrepreneurship Day! Speakers representing four disciplines in the College of Agriculture will be sharing their real-world expertise.

David and Stacey Hefty, Hefty Wealth Partners, are guests of Agricultural Economics. Both received degrees in 1999. David was the Outstanding Senior Man at Purdue and he and Stacey shared the 2011 Apex Award from the department for significant contributions in their field and to their communities.

Chris Layer, MOOG, Inc., is a Principal Engineer and Group Engineering Manager specializing in servo control systems for the Aerospace and Industrial segments. He also has a consulting business specializing in advanced power transmission technologies. Chris received his BS in 1981 from Agricultural & Biological Engineering. He was honored as an Outstanding ABE Alumnus in April, 2014.

Donald Orr is a 1967 graduate of Animal Sciences. He has been president of JBS United, a global nutrition technology-based company, since 1997. Don received the “Brothers of the Century” award from Alpha Gamma Rho in 2004, and was named a Fellow of the American Society of Animal Science in 2014.

Jonathan Stapley worked in the Whistler Center for Carbohydrate Research as a Frederick N. Andrews fellow while pursuing his PhD in Food Chemistry at Purdue. He started consulting businesses catering to the food industry during his undergraduate and graduate career. After graduating in 2004, he co-founded Dynamic Foods Ingredients (DFI).

Don Villwock is the president of Indiana Farm Bureau and Indiana Farm Bureau Insurance. He served Farm Bureau in many different capacities before his election as president in 2002. He received his degree in agricultural economics in 1972 and has been honored as a Purdue University Distinguished Agricultural Alumnus.

The presentations will be followed by a Question & Answer time.
Come learn to be successful from real-life entrepreneurs.