Taiwan Study Abroad Callout

John Morgan, Professor
November 5, 2019
Overview

- Chemical Engineering Study Abroad Taiwan Spring Break 2020
- Goal: expose chemical engineering undergraduate students to the academic and industrial environment of East Asia.
- 1 credit technical elective
- Study abroad course designed specifically for Chemical Engineering students
- March 14 – March 22, 2020
Academic Details

- Host: National Cheng Kung University (NCKU)
- Focus:
  - Semiconductors
  - Pharmaceuticals
  - Petroleum refining
  - Academic programs at NCKU
Course Outline

- Pre-departure lecture on Taiwan culture
- 6 academic lectures at NCKU
- Industrial site visits: UMC and ScinoPharm
- Pre-Post trip activity:
  - Cultural assessment surveys
  - One page essay with key learning points
Cultural Highlights

- National Palace Museum
- Temples
- Taipei 101
- Night markets
- Chinese Calligraphy
Logistics

- Valid passport needed
- Airfare- included
- Lodging in hotels: 2 students per room
- Food – each student pays individually
- Local transportation – covered for official events
Costs:

$1,888* billed by Purdue for study abroad & program fees

Includes airfare 😊

Other significant costs

$250 food and souvenirs

Additional incidentals, passport fees

Note: *Costs are tentative, based on 12 student estimated enrollment. Actual amount should not vary greatly
How to Apply

Applications can be made online beginning November 11, 2019 at https://www.studyabroad.purdue.edu

Decisions are made on a rolling basis, email notification.

Enrollment due date: December 1, 2019

All notifications made by December 15, 2019