

Catching Up With The Co-Ops!

Jen Porcaro

Hometown: Washington DC

Co-Op Company: Sun

Chemical Location: Chicago, IL

AIChE Position: Philanthropy CM

Q: What sort of work have you done with your company?

A: Some work I have done is replacing an air compressor, designing a new filling station, planning a new electrical grounding system, and communicate projects across various groups of people. I also got to travel to see different factories!

Q: Why did you decide to participate in the Co-Op program?

A: Co-oping is a great opportunity to gain industry experience for an extended period of time. Co-oping versus doing a summer internship, you are able to stay with the company longer and get a feel of what life after graduating could possibly look like for you. Many people that I've worked with have told me that they see co-oping as a really great experience that they prefer to see their new hires have, as it shows that you have had long term industry experience.
