

We are inviting hearing monolingual English speakers to participate in a neurophysiological study of English.

You will view pictures, sentences, and/or videos, and respond to questions about them, while wearing an EEG helmet.

You can see your brainwaves!

You will be paid $25 for one session, which takes about an hour and a half to two hours. We need you to participate in three sessions, which will be done back-to-back.

To participate in the study, please email us at wilbureeg@gmail.com

The study is conducted by Dr. Wilbur, Purdue University

Sign Language Linguistics Laboratory