ILS 695 Data Sharing and Publication

3 credit, Spring 2019, Monday 8:30-9:20 (Lecture), 9:30-11:20 (Lab), WALC 3049 & 3045

SPRING
NEW COURSE
2019

Wrapping up your PhD dissertation?

Ready to share your data with your research group?

Excited to publish your data sets along with your thesis?

This course will walk students through the process of preparing a data set for sharing with both internal and external audiences, in conjunction with their thesis deposit.

- Work closely with your supervisor to determine an authoritative data set
- Create data documentation
- Apply metadata
- Choose a data sharing platform as appropriate for your project

Questions?

Contact:

PURDUE UNIVERSITY | Libraries

Megan Sapp Nelson
msn@purdue.edu

Nicole Kong
kongn@purdue.edu