

Training and Education

NIH F31/30 Award Workshop Series

Who should attend?

- 2nd or 3rd-year PhD students (for the F31 award), MD/PhD students within 1-1.5 years into their PhD studies (for the F30 award), U.S. citizen or permanent resident.

Why apply for the F31/F30 award?

- Receive a stipend and have the tuition covered
- Improve critical grant writing and communication skills early on in career
- Establish new collaborations
- Align with the development of thesis projects

Why attend this workshop?

- Expert instructors
 - Dr. Perry Kirkham, Coordinator of NIH Research Development, Office of Research
 - Dr. Lisa Nielsen, Associate Director, Research Development, College of Engineering
 - Rachel Gehr, NSF Graduate Research Fellow, PhD student in Engineering Education
 - Guest speakers who have been awarded with F31/F30 fellowships
- Multiple reviews
 - Drafts after each lecture will be reviewed by peer participants and instructors.
 - Drafts and final applications will be reviewed by each participant's mentor(s).
 - Final application packages will be reviewed by additional faculty members before submission.

Key Lecture Dates

September 23, 2024

Info Session: Fellowship and Workshop Series Overview

September 30, 2024

Topic 1: Specific Aims and Review Criteria

October 28, 2024

Topic 2: Background and Training Goals

December 2, 2024

Topic 3: Research Strategy: Significance/Motivation

January 13, 2025

Topic 4: Research Strategy: Approach

February 10, 2025

Topic 5: Biosketch and Other Documents

April 8, 2025

Submission due

Register before September 16, 2024 at: <https://redcap.link/F31Workshop>

Questions: trainee-funding@purdue.edu