ARTICLE I

Name

The name of this organization is the Engineering Education Graduate Student Association. It is also known as the Engineering Education GSA, ENE Graduate Student Association, and/or the ENEGSA.

ARTICLE II

Purpose

The ENEGSA exists to enhance the scholarly community of graduate students within the School of Engineering Education (ENE) at Purdue University by:

• Providing graduate student representation on various College of Engineering, School of Engineering Education, and various student organized committees and organizations
• Providing opportunities for professional development and networking, including sponsoring seminars and departmental activities
• Assisting in the recruitment of new graduate students
• Supporting members in the mentoring of other graduate students
• Facilitating social interactions within the graduate student body and between the graduate student body, their families, and the community.

ARTICLE III
Definition of Membership

Membership is limited to all graduate students enrolled in the Purdue University School of Engineering Education. Eligible individuals are automatically members of the ENEGSA, but can decline membership if they so choose. Post-doctoral researchers may indicate their interest in membership by writing to the current ENEGSA President.

Purdue University staff and faculty (including faculty advisors) are eligible for adjunct membership, meaning that they may have all rights and privileges therein, except for the right to vote or hold office.

Membership and participation are free from discrimination based on race, religion, color, sex, age, national origin or ancestry, marital status, parental status, sexual orientation, disability, or status as a disabled person or veteran.

ARTICLE IV
Administration

Section 1. Branches. The ENEGSA administration will have four parts: the executive board, internal committee representatives, external committee representatives, and the faculty advisor.

Section 2. Executive Board. The executive board of the ENEGSA shall consist of the President, Treasurer, and Secretary. All ENE graduate students are eligible to run for and hold any officer position on the executive board.

Section 3. Internal Committee Representatives. Each internal committee is led by a committee chair who reports to the Executive Board. Committee chairs are non-elected positions. Each committee must have at least three members in addition to the chair. Committees may include but are not limited to the following: Student Relations, Communications, Social Networking, Financing/Fundraising, Athletics, and Professional Development.

Section 4. External Committee Representatives. The ENEGSA provides representatives to various College of Engineering, School of Engineering Education, and student organized committees and organizations. These organizations include, but are not limited to, the Graduate Student Advisory Council (GSAC), ENE Graduate Committee, and the Purdue Graduate Student Government (PGSG). External committee representatives are elected positions. All ENE graduate students are eligible to run for and hold any external committee representative position.

Section 5. Faculty Advisor. The Faculty Advisor of the ENEGSA will be a faculty member in the School of Engineering Education. There are no term limits for the faculty advisor. The first choice for the Faculty Advisor should be the Chair of the School of Engineering Education’s Graduate Committee.

Section 6. Participation Limitations. No ENE graduate student shall hold more than two elected positions on the executive board and/or committees, unless a shortage of candidates for the available positions exists. All elected positions, unless otherwise specified, have a term limit of one year. With the exception of the Faculty Advisor, ENEGSA board members (i.e. executive board, at least one representative from each internal and external committee) are expected to attend most, if not all, general ENEGSA meetings.
