Graduate students’ semesters can be overwhelming and busy. To get the most out of your semester and before the semester gets into full swing, you need to develop a strategic plan: a plan that is clear, but also realistic. A strategic plan will help you to clarify WHAT needs to be done and WHEN you will do it. In this workshop, we will learn how to do strategic planning for the semester to reach our goals. We will look at the semester in macro and micro levels, meaning that we will practice mapping out our goals for the whole semester and then planning for each week to achieve those goals.

After this workshop, you will have
- a clear plan with identified goals for the whole semester.
- an organized calendar for at least one week.
