FROM: The Faculty of the Lyles School of Civil and Construction Engineering

RE: Add MSCE to Indianapolis

The Faculty of the Lyles School of Civil and Construction Engineering has approved the following change to the Master of Science in Civil Engineering Major from the College of Engineering. This action is now submitted to the Engineering Faculty with a recommendation for approval.

TITLE:

Master of Science in Civil Engineering in Indianapolis

DESCRIPTION:

Adding Indianapolis location to program

RATIONALE:

Indianapolis as the state capital has the presence of a large number of companies that represent various segments of the construction industry including commercial, heavy civil, industrial, environmental, as well as housing and real estate that address the facility needs of various industries/clients in the region. The urban environment of Indianapolis is an ideal location to offer our Masters Programs targeted towards construction professionals that represent contractors, owners, vendors and the government sector. Some of the large owners requiring construction services include Lilly, Cummins, IU Health, Rolls Royce, Amazon, INDOT, and Simon Property Group. Some of the largest contractors in Indianapolis include AECOM Hunt, F. A. Wilhelm Construction Co, Shiel Sexton, Pepper Construction, Bowen Engineering, The Hagerman Group, BMWC, Messer Construction, etc., to name a few.
