College of Engineering
Graduate Faculty Mentoring Excellence Award

Purpose: The purpose of this award is to recognize excellence by faculty in the College of Engineering in the mentoring of graduate students.

Eligibility: Any graduate faculty member with at least a half-time appointment in the College of Engineering who has not received this award within the past five years.

Mentors, according to The Council of Graduate Schools, are: supporters, tutors, masters, sponsors, and models of identity (Zelditch, 1990). The nomination document for this award should address how the nominee has demonstrated excellence in expressing these qualities in their mentoring relationships.

Criteria: Nominees must demonstrate sustained and significant contributions to graduate education and the nurturing of the intellectual, professional, and personal development of graduate students as evidenced through activities such as those noted below.

- Well-structured relationships with students that lead to successful completion of masters and doctoral degrees. These relationships include service on committees, mentoring, funding, intellectual and creative support, advocacy, and respect for students. Evidence of the mentor inspiring success continuously and to a substantial extent is appreciated. Particular instances of the mentor tailoring their mentoring style and content for individual mentees are encouraged.
- Innovative graduate teaching.
- Nurturing mentees after they graduate for continued success in their careers. Successful mentoring of PhDs after graduation as evidenced by letters from past students who are well-placed, successful mentees in their chosen careers in academia, industry, government or civil society, etc.

Procedures:
- Candidates may be nominated by a current Purdue Engineering faculty member or a former Purdue engineering graduate student mentee.
- The nomination document should not exceed one page and should address the criteria above. Three letters of support, not longer than one page each, are also required. Two letters should be from former graduate students who have been successfully mentored by the nominee, and one letter from a Purdue faculty colleague (other than the nominator) who has observed the mentoring by the nominee and will comment about its style and effectiveness.
- Nominee’s reflection (written in first person) on involvement in various aspects of graduate education (maximum 2 pages); this section should be written by the nominee and include their approach to and success in graduate mentoring.
- C.V. including graduate courses taught; significant publications (indicate publications co-authored with graduate students by highlighting graduate student(s) names).
- List of past masters and doctoral students for whom the nominee served as major professor and their current positions if available (1-2 pages).
- The above documents should be combined into a single PDF file.
- The awardee will receive a cash award of $2,500 and an individual plaque. He or she will be honored during the annual faculty awards banquet and will be the college’s nominee for the Graduate School’s Outstanding Graduate Faculty Mentor Award.
- If multiple nominations for one individual are received, the nominators will be contacted and asked to collaborate in order to submit one nomination package.
