

you always talk about recruiting more new faculty but never talk about the need to recruit more staff to support them. Every new faculty adds additional burden on existing support staff.

Purdue's contracting department is super slow.

We are Desperate for more support staff

Concerns:

- top-down administration, faculty have little say in "shared" governance
- student enrollment, especially providing a high quality experience for students