Currency Conversion

For those of you are who entering the United States from overseas, it would be best if you would convert your currency to US dollars before you arrive at Purdue.

Indianapolis International Airport or Chicago O’Hare International Airport are the closest places to Purdue to handle the conversion. There are very limited places for monetary exchange once you leave the international airports. If you are flying into any other international airport, please coover your currency at the airport.

Below is the web address for directions to Purdue from Chicago and Indianapolis http://www.purdue.edu/vic/navigating/getting_here.php

Please refer to the International Student and Scholars web site for additional essential information at http://www.iss.purdue.edu/Admission/UG/PreArrival/

Revised June 2012