

Dr. Anil K. Bajaj Outstanding Service Scholarship Announcement

The Dr. Anil K. Bajaj Outstanding Service Scholarship recognizes mechanical engineering graduate students who provide outstanding service to the mechanical engineering graduate student community. This is a one-time award. One recipient will be selected each year. Recipient will receive a scholarship of $2,500.

Eligibility:

Graduate students currently enrolled in ME are eligible to apply.

Selection criteria:

1. Have contributed over time to the quality, reputation, or success of the mechanical engineering graduate student community, including but not limited to provide support to the graduate recruitment events, mentoring new graduate students, enhance networking among students and so on.
2. Be in good academic standing with a minimum GPA of 3.0, with a higher GPA preferred.

Application will consist of:

- A resume listing detailed information showing services provided by the student.
- An essay from the student to describe how they meet the above selection criteria.
- A recommendation letter from ME faculty, staff, or graduate student.

If faculty, staff, or graduate students have good candidates in mind, please encourage them to apply. Applicants, please email your application in one PDF file to megradoffice@purdue.edu by the deadline as posted on the ME Grad Blog. If recommenders prefer to directly send out letters, please email them to megradoffice@purdue.edu by the same deadline, but subject line must specify student and which award applies.
