What's New This Week??

*Monday Munchies is TODAY!!****

Come take a break from those Monday blues and join your fellow GMP women for some yummy snacks, tea (or hot chocolate) and excellent conversation! We will meet in ARMS near the entrance by Stadium and Northwestern @ 3:30PM! See you there!

*RSVP for November Meeting****

UPDATE: YOU NEED TO RSVP FOR THIS MEETING BY END OF TODAY!!

www.purdue.edu/WIEP/Surveys/GMPPrsvp

Due to the food order, if you plan to attend this GMP Meeting, you need to RSVP by the end of the day TODAY (Nov. 8)!!

Anthony Cawdron will be the speaker at the last GMP Meeting of the semester where he will give a talk on “You Are How You Eat—Dining Etiquette Dinner” @5:30-7:30PM in Meredith Dining Hall. [You do not need to dress formally].

Anthony is the Events Coordinator at Westwood (President Cordova’s official residence).

A SPECTACULAR VIEW IN CENTRAL INDIANA

Sandhill Cranes stop by central Indiana on their way to their wintering area in Florida during their migration. The second week of November (i.e., this week) generally boasts the greatest numbers of sandhill cranes in the Jasper-Pulaski State Fish & Wildlife Area (~1.5hrs north of Purdue). The best times to see them is at sunrise or sunset from the Goose Pasture Viewing Area. On November 3rd, the sandhill crane count was 10,114!!

Feature of the Week: ABE GWG "Drive to Survive"

The ABE GWG group is collecting new or gently used items the entire month of November for the women and children in the YWCA Domestic Violence Intervention/Prevention Program.

If you would like to donate, there are currently boxes in ABE and Food Science buildings. However, if you would like one of the ambassadors to arrange for a pickup from your office, just send them an email! You can also put out boxes and advertise the drive in your department (clear it with your building deputy first) as well, just be sure to let one of the ABE GWG ambassadors know!

ABE GWG Ambassadors:

Margaret McCahon Kalcic (mmccahon@purdue.edu) and Shivangi Kelkar (skelkar@purdue.edu).
