

Building Sustainable Communities Signature Research Area Series Roundtable Discussion: Promotion and Tenure

November 4, 2019, 3:30– 5:00 PM | WALC 3090

Dan
Kelly

Dan Kelly's research interests lie at the intersection of the philosophy of mind and cognitive science, moral theory, and evolution. He is the author of Yuck! The Nature and Moral Significance of Disgust, and has published papers on moral judgment, social norms, responsibility, racial cognition, cross-cultural diversity, and David Foster Wallace.

Zhao
Ma

Zhao Ma is an Associate Professor of Natural Resource Social Science from the Department of Forestry and Natural Resources in the College of Agriculture at Purdue University. Her research program broadly addresses the question of how individuals and organizations make natural resource decisions in the context of social-ecological change.

Leigh
Raymond

Leigh Raymond is Professor of Political Science at Purdue University. He received his Ph.D. in Environmental Science, Policy, and Management from U.C. Berkeley, and a B.A. in Philosophy from Yale University. His research focuses on the politics of environmental policy design, adoption, and implementation, especially policies using market incentives such as carbon pricing.

Satish
Ukkusuri

Satish V. Ukkusuri is a Professor in the Lyles School of Civil Engineering at Purdue University since July 2014 where he teaches courses in transportation systems and freight and logistics planning. Ukkusuri is a member of the Transportation and Infrastructure group at Purdue.

The Center for the Environment Building Sustainable Communities Signature Research Area is pleased to offer a roundtable focused on discussing promotion and tenure. Panelists are interdisciplinary tenured faculty working on environmental challenges from across campus and will present on how they worked with their departments to craft their tenure documents. Comments will be followed by an interactive discussion with attendees in a supportive environment.

Light refreshments will be served

Everyone is welcome to attend. For questions, please contact Laura Zanotti (lanotti@purdue.edu)
