Therapist, Franciscan Health Lafayette*

Discuss walking and balance with Dr. Jeff Haddad and Carol Krueger-Brophy. Haddad's research explores postural stability, manual control, and locomotion in aging and disease. He exams ways to improve balance (reduce fall risk) in older individuals and Parkinson's disease patients. Krueger-Brophy has over 30 years of experience as a physical therapist on neurological and musculoskeletal disorders. She is particularly interested in balance and vestibular disorders in the geriatric population.
