Next week’s assignment

- Present a detailed structure of the model you are working with including flow of information from user/data base through model all the way to the output
- Reference list. Only significant publications. Original publications plus any additions/modifications.
- Comment or model availability and data availability.
- Prepare a 3-4 page report with complete methods for your analysis compatible with the problem statement presented earlier.
- Show preliminary results of your work.