

A&AE 190 Introduction to Aerospace Engineering
Assignment 3, Due Tuesday, 10/2/01

Read the issue of Aviation Week and Space Technology provided to you in class. From that issue, select an article on a topic of interest to you. Do some research to find out more about that topic. You may use another issue of Aviation Week or other reference sources of such as found in the Purdue Library. Write a one-page description of the topic describing what you learned and why it was interesting to you. Be prepared to stand up in class and discuss your topic. You may use internet resources for your research as long as you carefully evaluate the reliability of the source and give appropriate credit..
