

Indiana Water Quality Monitoring Inventory and Workshop

The goal of this process is to promote coordination and collaboration in water quality monitoring in Indiana through the compilation and dissemination of information. The two activities will be:

- 1) A statewide survey of organizations, individuals, universities, and agencies that are conducting water quality monitoring. (Summer 2006)
- 2) A statewide monitoring conference, which will be a forum for reporting the results and featuring important and innovative monitoring efforts. (Fall 2006)

The outcome of these activities will be a comprehensive report of water quality monitoring in Indiana that will be widely available to the water quality community.
