Today’s Hot Mix Asphalt Pavement…There is a difference
As a result of national research - a new method of mix design -, today’s Asphalt pavements are different.

Why Choose HMA
HMA offers numerous advantages, most notable are, speed of construction and significant economic impact in local communities.

Guide Specifications for Local Governments
Developed by the industry for ease of use by locals

Guide Specifications for Commercial Applications
Developed by the industry for ease of use by consultants and developers

HMA Certified Plants
Your assurance of quality

Performance Graded Binders
Performance Graded (PG) Binders are selected for their intended use.

INDOT Specifications – September 2003 *

Section 401 Quality Control/Quality Assurance, QC/QA, Hot Mix Asphalt, (HMA) Pavement
Section 402 Hot Mix Asphalt (HMA) Pavement
Section 409 Equipment…for production, transportation and placement of HMA mixtures
Section 904 Aggregates

* Prior to inserting into contracts please confirm you have the latest version of INDOT specifications.

Quality Assurance Guide For Local Governments

Sample Road/Street Paving Specification

Indiana Test Methods (ITM)
Includes test methods applicable to HMA Pavement production, placement and acceptance

Glossary
Definitions and commonly used terms in HMA production, placement, and testing.

Sources for Additional Information and Assistance:
Webpage addresses

Published and distributed by:

Asphalt Pavement Association of Indiana,
An association for the development, improvement, and advancement of asphalt pavement construction.
Lloyd Bandy, Executive Director  (317) 632-2441  email: inapai@aol.com